

"Most conversations are simply monologues delivered in the presence of a witness."

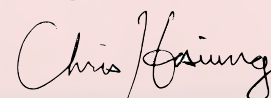

– Margaret Millar

What if conversations were instead rich, meaningful dialogues between two curious human beings?

Join me for an exclusive three-hour afternoon course dedicated to fine-tuning our listening skills, to raising the quality of our questions, and to choosing authenticity in all our words.

Bring yourself, bring a friend, and be prepared to engage in exercises, skill drills, and conversations. Appetizers, drinks, and desserts will be provided to feed the talking spirit.

See you soon!
